

Liang (Ashley) Wang

Xi'an Jiaotong University was the place I received my Pharmacy Bachelor degree. Jiangnan University is the college I am on my master degree classes on Food Science.

I spent my first 6 career years in in Pharmaceutical industry as regulatory affairs manager in China and successfully operating more than 60 products from concept to patients.

Since 2010, I enlarged my experience to join the food industry started with Ingration (previous name National Starch) as China regulatory affairs manager. Now, I'm seated as the Regulatory and Scientific Affairs Asia Head in Tate & Lyle, taking care multiple product lines regulatory approvals for 10+ Asia countries.