ILSI Europe, a network of experts, collaborates with 270 non-industry experts from 26 countries worldwide. The active network of 500 scientists includes experts from various fields such as food safety, nutrition, and health sciences. ILSI Europe is involved as partner in projects funded by the European Commission, including a total of 21 task forces and over 30 expert groups. The society addresses topics such as food safety, nutrition, and social aspects, such as consumer science.

ILSI Europe is involved in 8 EU-funded projects, monitored by European Commission, involving 62 member companies in 2013. The organisation and participation in 17 major scientific events include workshops and conferences focusing on topics like diet and health, nutrition, and metabolic imprinting. The society provides support in areas such as packaging, functional foods, and biomarkers.
