Gail Tavill is Vice President of CSR & Sustainability at Conagra Brands. In this role, she chairs the company’s CSR Governance Committee and leads the company’s sustainability strategy. Gail is also responsible for the Nutrition, Health & Wellness team and Process Engineering in the R&D organization. Externally, she co-chairs the Food Waste Reduction Alliance on behalf of GMA members and chairs the policy committee. Gail is also an advocate for the packaging industry through AMERIPEN, an organization that proactively influences packaging policy in the US.

Gail joined ConAgra Foods in 2000 after 10 years with Kraft Foods and has held progressive leadership roles in R&D impacting a wide variety of branded packaged food products. She established the role of sustainability at Conagra and continues to lead in that area.

Gail earned a BS in Packaging from Michigan State University and an MS in Environmental Management from the Stuart School of Business at the Illinois Institute of Technology. She served 6 years on the Board of Directors of Forgotten Harvest in Detroit, the nation’s largest food rescue organization.
